I'm a confident self-shooting Producer & Editor with production experience in short films, promos and corporate media, including narrative, factual, comedy and sports. Since 2013, I've worked on all aspects of production, creating high quality video content on a low budget for corporate, commercial and community clients. In 2015, I wrote, directed and produced 'Cupid'; a web series that has won 1 award, 4 nominations and 11 international festival selections. My latest short 'Already Dead' was nominated for Best Comedy Short at the prestigious FilmQuest Festival in the US and was released on Amazon Prime in April 2017. I am an ambitious self-starter who never shies away from a challenge and always strives for the best.
